BRIDGEPORT. MARTIN'S FERRY.

BELLAIRE STIRRED UP

Over the Boldness of Some Recent Criminal Visitors.

The people of Bellaire are very much exercised over the boldness of some of the sneak thieves that seem to abound that town. An unknown man entered the rear of Henry Bonarius' residence and store Monday evening, just after dark, and attempted to get upwas bolted, and before he did anything once of one of Mr. Bonarius' daughters Lichtig's, and while one talked to the proprietor the other attempted to get away with half a dozen pairs of pants, but he was halted and dropped the goods on the street, and took to his heels. There were no arrests.

A. T. Dinsmore Hurt.

A. T. Dinsmore was run down yesterday morning, by a wagon belonging to Grayson, the plumber, at Martin's Ferry, and received a bad injury about the head. Dinsmore was about to board a street car for Bridgeport and learned after he had jumped on the car that that one went via North York street, and did not go to Bridgeport. He stepped off the car and as he did so the hub of the passing waron struck his ler hed off the car and as he dld so the hub of the passing wagon struck his leg, hrowing him to the ground with great orce. The back of his head struck the oricks and a had wound was inflicted. He was removed to Tweedy's office, where he received attention and in a short time was able to continue his ourney to Bridgeport. He escaped ery fortunately under the circumstances.

Bellaire Board of Trade.

The general meeting of all the memers of the Bellaire board of trade will held next month, and arrangements will be made for a full attendance. The poard of control expects to have some things in shape by that time, though it s not probable any locations will be made by that time. There is nothing is not probable any locations will be made by that time. There is nothing definite on this line as yet. The Bell-aire board expressed a desire to co-op-erate with the Wheeling board in mat-ters of mutual interest, and have a con-ference committee for that purpose.

THE RAILWAY ORDINANCE

For To-night.

At a meeting of the council of Benwood last night the Wheeling railway ordinance, asking for the right to lay connecting line along Kentucky Heights, again came up, and after some discussion the matter was laid over until another meeting.

A resolution was passed which is the city's ultimatum to the company which has the contract to furnish the city water. The city has been virtually bereft of a water supply for some time past, and the company offers no relief. In case of fire the city would be in a In case of fire the city would be sorry plight, and the councilmen were unanimous in the opinion that the community dealt with unanimous in the opinion that the com-jury should be summarily dealt with.
It was decided that if the company does not have its plant in shape for furnish-ing the city with water by the first of the year the franchise will be revoked. A meeting of the citizens is called for 7 o'clock this evening, at the city hall. The ordinance committee of council and representatives of the Wheeling Street Haifway Company will be present and the franchise of the company for the right to connect its lines along Ken-tucky Heights will be discussed.

"The Girl From Maxim's."

"The Girl From Maxim's," a new French farce which has had highly successful runs in New York and Chica-go, Boston and Philadelphia, will be so, boston and raimorepina, win be presented at the Opera House on Friday evening, December 14. The story of the farce begins with the discovery made by friends of a respectable physician who drop into his rooms in the morning, that he is asleep under the nonchalant sort of a young lady who is a stranger to the physician's household. When the physician is awakened and learns of the young lady's presence, the only explanation is that, when he was out with the boys the night before, he visited Maxim's, a famous Paris cafe frequented by Americans, and he supposes the girl came home with him. She professes ignorance of the fact that it is the height had the professes ignorance of the fact that it poses the girl came home with him. She professes ignorance of the fact that it is his home. In the midst of the explanations the physician's wife comes in, the girl from Maxim's is hastly thrust back. In, the room and the wife seeing a dress' on the back of the chair, picks it up. The physician awkwardly informs his wife that he has bought the dress and meant to surprise her with it, so she walks off with the Maxim girl's gown. Later the physician calls to invite, them; to visit his villa in the country. He finds the girl from Maxim's in bed, and inistakes her, for the physician's wife. She helps along the deception, and so in the next act all hands are seen in the country, where the wicked Parislan teaches them to kick high and to sing maughty songs, informing them that these are the things which society girls do in Paris. She also flitz violently with several of the gentlemen, and makes it lively and warm for the penitent old physician, whose wife fails to establish her identity and is taken for a crazy woman. After a long while the complications are all straightened out and everybody is left in a happy and satisfied state. all straightened out and everybody is left in a happy and satisfied state.

"The Evil Eye."

"The Evil Eye," which will be seen at Opera House this evening, is Charles H. Yate's massive mechanical trick laughter making surprise, with a wealth of pretty girls, pretty costumes, a melange of mirth nonsense, aerobatic feats and gorgeous scenery that is changed by mechanical effects and libusions into bewildering pictures. It tells of the enchantment of "The Evil Eye," the wonderful adventures of Nid and the weird wanderings of Nod produced on a larger scale than ever, including the great. Phasey troups, the electric ballet. The twirling mill, the rotating rooms, the clang of the wooden shoe, Gus Brun. Mayme Mayo and an uproariously funny specialty by Nid and Nod. THE RAILROADS.

There are a great many rumors as to the changes that will be made on the first of the year among the officials of the Pennsylvania company. At this time, as is already known, the new pen-sion plan will go into effect, and that in itself will cause many changes, as some of the prominent officials will be affected. In addition to these, how-affected. In addition to these, however, it is said that even more important changes have been practically decided upon. One of these is the creation of another executive position in the Pennsylvania company, or rather the revival of fourth vice president.

Although there is no official confirmation of the report, it is stated, that L. F. Loree, now general manager of the Pennsylvania lines, will be called to fill this new position. His promotion would leave the important position of general manager vacant, and there has been a great deal of speculation as to who his successor would be in the event that he great deal of speculation as to who his successor would be in the event that he is called to take a place on the executive board. It is stated by one who is in a position to be conversant with the affairs of the company that A. M. Schoyer, superintendent of the eastern division of the Fort Wayne, is the man who will be selected.

The officials of the company, when seen refused to discuss the matter. It is said that whatever changes were to be made, if any, were not in such shape at the present time that they could be talked about. It was stated positively that no official action had been taken in regard to the matter.

there are in the neighborhood of 460 or 500 loaded coalboats being held in the paols that cannot be moved until the Ohlo river reaches an elever-foot stage. There are fully 10,000,000 bushels of coal waiting to be sent south and it will require every towboat at Pittsburgh to move the craft.

The only boat that was sent out with a coal tow to-day was the Valiant, which left early this morning, taking nincteen barges, being assisted by the Joseph Walton. The latter boat will go as far as Marietta, where she will take the empties of some of the boats coming up stream and help them into Pittsburgh. There are hundreds of emptles in the Pittsburgh harbor, waiting to be taken up into the pools, and all of the mines of the river combination are working steady. It will take some time to lond the empty craft and the boat yards will be kept busy making repairs as long as the weather is not too cold.

The boats that are on their way south with tows of coal are making very good progress.
